650 Film Camera

Canon EOS 650 is a 35

mm single lens reflex

film camera. It was the first camera in Canon

EOS series, which was designed to support

autofocus lens. The

EOS system featured

the EF lens mount,

which used electrical

signals to communicate

between the camera and

File Type PDF Canon Eos 650

the lens. Focusing and aperture control were performed by electric motors mounted in the lens body.

shoot in an automatic mode, and already have a collection of EF lenses.

If, however, you love shooting fully manual and want a more “ authentic ” old-school film experience, look elsewhere.
