New Gizmo: Cell Types. by Laura Gallagher May 3, 2017. In 1665, Robert Hooke observed thin slices of cork through a primitive microscope. The cork slices were divided into thousands of tiny boxes, which Hooke named “cells” because they reminded him of monk’s cells in a monastery. Over 150 years later, Matthias Schleiden and Theodor Schwann codified years of observations into the cell theory: all living organisms are composed of cells, the cell is the basic unit of
