"The Great Big Book of Everything" is a book owned by Stanley Griff in the 2001 series Stanley. It is a book on all kinds of animals, and it can be used to travel into the habitats of those animals and even bring the animals themselves out of the book and back. It is shown that Stanley's grandmother owns a copy. In fact, it was she who gave Stanley a copy for his fourth birthday.

This book was designed to provide kindergarten teachers with an enormous amount of activities to supplement their programs in eight major subject areas (music, art, cooking, language arts, math, science, social studies, and physical fitness). The guided discovery activities in this book are designed to be enjoyable yet challenging for students at this level. The goal is to have the children learn through exploration and play and the activities are aimed at whole body experience. It is through these activities that each child's mental, physical, and social capacities are challenged. The activities also provide opportunities for individualized, small, and large group participation.

The new and expanded Bigger Book of Everything is the quintessential guide to travel, to the world and all sorts of things you didn't know you needed to know.
